Syllabus: Methods in Developmental Biology

Load: 72 hours, laboratory.

The student keeps a notebook: date, specimen, stage, what is visible, what is not.

Imaging is used where it answers a question already stated.

The course does not include instructions for obtaining or modifying embryos outside the teaching task.

The mark is given for precision of description and for an honest limit on the conclusion.

Sample syllabus.