MSc in Developmental Biology

Length: 2 years. Seminar languages: Russian and English.

Selection: portfolio and interview.

Courses: molecular mechanisms of development, organogenesis, evolution of development, research seminar.

By the end of the second year the student submits a thesis and speaks in the department.

A publication is not a condition of defence in this sample programme.

Replace this file with the official programme description.